Consider these 7 areas when researching and exploring careers.

1 | Geography
Where do you want to live and work? Consider major city vs. small town, east coast vs. west coast.

2 | Workplace
What kind of working conditions do you prefer? Consider small vs. large, stationary vs. dynamic.

3 | Knowledge
What are you most interested in learning about? Consider what you know, but don’t limit yourself.

4 | Skills
What are your favorite skills to use? Consider current skills, but don’t limit yourself to only these.

5 | People
What kinds of people do you like to work with or help? Consider age span, personalities, problems.

6 | Purpose
What are your mission and goals? Consider passions - health, sustainability, research, entertainment.

7 | Compensation
What total pay and benefits do you desire? Consider level of responsibility in addition to salary.

Inspired by the “flower exercise” in Stephen Williams’s What Color Is Your Parachute?

For more information or other career-related questions, contact our CICS Careers team.
左手 Visit our CICS Website | Join Handshake | 右手 Visit Us @ LGRCA243